Rotherhithe Primary School's Art Ambassador's Newsletter

Friday 9th December 2022

Issue 4

Greetings all, since Christmas is coming up, the whole school have created amazing snowflakes for the recent Christmas Plays that some of you may have seen or been to. They have made these snowflakes by folding a piece of paper multiple times, then carefully cutting said pieces of paper, to then unravel them, then at that point you have formed a wonderful, unique snowflake! There are thousands of possibilities for snowflakes that even you at home could create yourself!

The children's snowflakes were also stuck on the back of the wall for their performances for a bit of Christmas spirit to lighten the mood and make parents and family members happier. All of our children at this school worked really hard to perfect their performances and everyone enjoyed it so we are really happy and grateful for all of the parents who attended to see and hear all of their wonderful children singing and dancing!!

For the first time in this newsletter, we are adding a 'favourite artist' section. First up are students from year 3!

REMINDER: The Christmas Card Competition is due on the 16th of December, Friday, the last day of term. For more information of this subject, visit our website

Marc Craig is my favourite artist because he is fascinating

My dad is my favourite artist because he does great details

My uncle is my favourite artist because he does a lot of good details
