Issue 6

Hi all, we hope you had a nice week. This is the second Issue of the year and we are happy to share this week's art news with you. In Year 6, the children went to Dulwich Picture Gallery, which was the first ever building to be used as a picture gallery, for all to view, with lots of different art from many different countries like Belgium, France and Italy. In the magical experience, the children have seen many creative art pieces like (art), the children did activities like drawing while not taking their pencils off of the paper, or feeling the texture of a pinecone to try replicate the shape of it.

This week in Year 6, children have been making portrait's of emotions that someone in World War 2 (or 1) might have felt during the war. The drawings are based off the drawing style of German artist Käthe Kollwitz from the 1860's to the 1940's which was when WW2 occurred. The children have done very well at expressing the emotions that were felt in the war.

In Year 4/5, the children have been making pop-up books about fairy tales that they learnt in Year 1 and Reception. Here are some marvelous examples:
